Everyday luxury. Everyday practicality.

Is there any thing more utterly indulgent and completely desirable than a delightfully warm towel after a shower or bath, particularly on a cold winter's day? It's one of those little things in life that can make all the difference. Happily, it's a touch of luxury that you can indulge yourself in everyday – with a Radiance Heated Towel Rail.

Towels are warm, fluffy, dry and waiting for you from your shower and afterwards they dry quickly. You can even dry damp clothes. That's a lot of practical convenience, at a very low running cost. A Radiance Heated Towel Rail really is an everyday luxury for the whole family.

A design for every bathroom

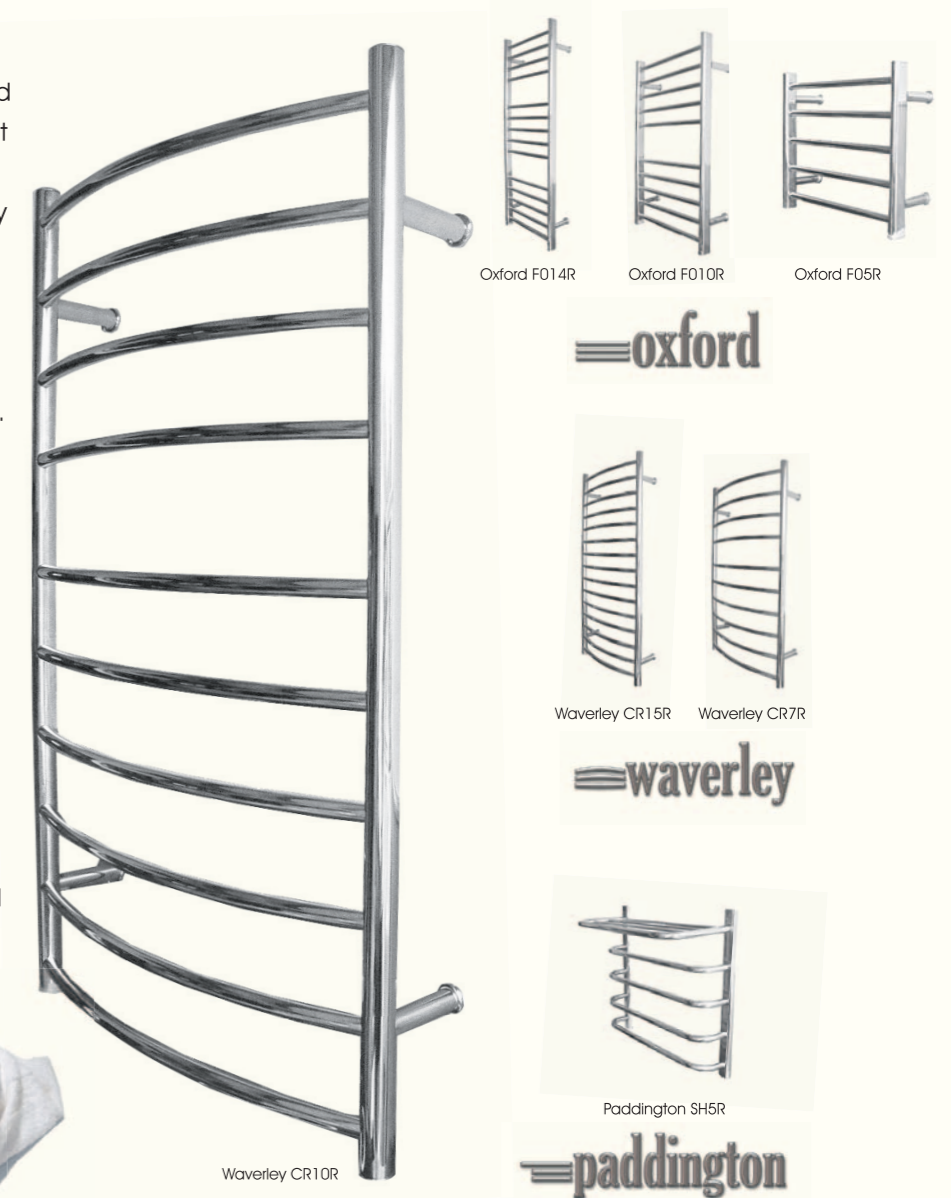

Radiance Heated Towel Rails come in a range of three different models - The Oxford, The Waverley and The Paddington - each boasting its own unique and stylish features to suit various bathroom decors.

Guaranteed quality

All Radiance Heated Towel Rails come with a 5 Year Replacement Warranty and are constructed from the highest quality stainless steel.

Affordable performance

For just a few cents a day to run, Radiance heated Towel Rails will give your family a touch of practical luxury, everyday!
